

Guidelines for Contributors

1. Journal of Population Studies is a biannual, refereed journal co-published by the Center for Population and Gender Studies of National Taiwan University and the Population Association of Taiwan, and is devoted to research in the field of population studies.
2. Articles are accepted for consideration on the understanding that they are unpublished and are not being submitted elsewhere.
3. Send disk copy to: E-mail: psc@ntu.edu.tw. Tel: 886-2-3366-3405.
Website : <http://www.psc.ntu.edu.tw>
4. Manuscript Preparation:
  - Use 12-pt type and double space everything (title page, text, references, endnotes/footnotes, appendices, tables, etc.).
  - Use left justification in the text (the right edge is ragged).
  - Number pages, beginning with the title page.
  - Include camera-ready quality copies of all figures, including any submitted on disk.
  - Submit files in grayscale or bitmap mode unless they are intended to print in color.
  - Research Articles should not exceed 20,000 words in Chinese or 10,000 words in English (including figures and tables).
  - Research Notes should not exceed 15,000 words in Chinese or 6,000 words in English (including figures and tables).
  - The submitted manuscript should be typed in Microsoft Word format.
  - Manuscript submitted for publication should be accompanied by title and abstracts, both in English and in Chinese.

- Please submit two files for submission: a “Named Manuscript” (including the full text and author’s basic information) and an “Anonymous Manuscript” (containing the full text only).

(1) Named Manuscript: Include the full manuscript, the name(s) of the author(s), affiliation(s), and contact information. If there are multiple authors, please indicate the corresponding author.

(2) Anonymous Manuscript: Include the full manuscript. Please add page numbers and line numbers. Do not include the author’s personal information. Except for the references and sources, the rest of the text should not have any indexes, hyperlinks, or other fields.

(A) Reference and Parenthetical Citations in Text

- Citations appearing in the text and not enclosed in parentheses should list the date of the work in parentheses following author name(s) ... (Portes 1995; Glenn and Grimes 1968; Massey et al. 1993).
- Use last names only; no first names or initials.
- Different publications by the same author(s) appear in chronological order (by year).
- Use commas to separate the dates of different publications by the same author and a semicolon between that author’s work and the works of another author.
- Once a work with three or more authors has been cited in full, subsequent citations should list the first author (no comma) followed by et al.; works with six or more authors follow this convention on the first occurrence.
- Cite page number(s) using a colon after the author(s) and the date. (e.g., Portes 1995, pp. 10-12).

(B) Reference List and Samples

- Double space all end references.
- Alphabetize entries in the same manner as within-text citations (above).
- The reference list includes only references cited in the text. Do not construct a bibliography.
- Entries with multiple authors should include the names of all authors in the reference list.
- Italicize titles, journal names, and volume numbers.
- Each new entry begins to flush left; set subsequent lines with hanging indents.
- Examples:

Periodicals:

Fields, G. S. 1976. "Labor Force Migration, Unemployment and Job Turnover." The Review of Economics and Statistics 58(4): 407-415. doi:10.2307/1935872

Lesthaeghe, R. and P. Willems. 2004. "Is Low Fertility a Temporary Phenomenon in the European Union?" Population and Development Review 25(2): 211-228. doi:10.1111/j.1728-4457.1999.00211.x

Moen, P., G. Downey, and N. Bolger. 1990. "Labor-Force Reentry among U.S. Homemakers in Midlife: A Life-Course Analysis." Gender & Society 4(2): 230-243. doi:10.1177/089124390004002007

Books:

Woods, R. 1979. Population Analysis in Geography. London, UK: Longman.

Bell, S. S. (ed.) 1991. Habitat Structure: The Physical Arrangement of Objects in Space. New York, NY: Chapman and Hall.

Collections:

Parsons, T. 1949. "The Social Structure of the Family." Pp. 33-58 in The Family: Its Function and Destiny, edited by R. Anshen. New York, NY: Harper.

Official and organization publications:

Directorate-General Budget, Accounting, and Statistics, Executive Yuan, R.O.C. 2009. Monthly Bulletin of Statistics. Taipei.

Doctoral dissertation, Master thesis and Working Papers:

Hsieh, M. K. 2009. A Discussion of the Demands and the Measures of Aging People's Welfare in Taipei City. MA thesis. Graduate Institute of National Development, National Taiwan University. doi:10.6342/NTU.2009.00413

Luy, M. 2005. "The Importance of Mortality Tempo-Adjustment: Theoretical and Empirical Considerations." MPIDR Working Paper WP-2005-035. <http://www.demogr.mpg.de/papers/working/wp-2005-035.pdf> (Date visited: March 2, 2010)

Newspapers:

Authors:

Jenkins, S. 2008. "A Broad Church with Narrow Attitudes." The China Post. July 20.

No authors:

“East Africa Drought Lingers; Millions Hungry.” The China Post.
September 30, 2009.

Internet Resources:

U.S. Census Bureau. 2003. “Table 028: Age-Specific Fertility Rates and Selected Derived Measures.” In IDB Data Access-Display Mode.
<http://www.census.gov.tw/ipc/www/idbprint.html> (Date visited: May 5, 2007).

Conference Papers:

Ganzeboom, H. B. G. 2010. “A New International Socio-Economic Index (ISEI) of Occupational Status for the International Standard Classification of Occupation 2008 (ISCO-08) Constructed with Data from the ISSP 2002-2007.” Paper presented at Annual Conference of International Social Survey Programme. Lisbon, Portugal, May 1.

(C) Tables and Figures

- Insert tables and figures in the text.
- Number tables and figures consecutively.
- Include a title at the beginning for each table, and a title at the bottom for each figure.
- Put a full table on a single page using single spacing.
- Size the figure to be close to its final print size.